

TAKING AIR CONSOLIDATING ONE STEP FURTHER

COMPANY PRESENTATION

This is ScandJet

ScandJet is Scandinavia's only air consolidator in non-schedule-flights. By bringing together a wide range of tour operators, we are continuously able to provide the best airfares for thousands of travelers.

We are constantly expanding into new markets, virtually covering the whole world. Based in Gothenburg, Sweden, ScandJet's dedicated staff shares the same passion for air travel and the growing possibilities in our line of business. ScandJet's founder, Sasha Djakovic, has a vision where all actors in the flight industry, cooperate and consolidate air traffic, instead of competing, with dumping of prices and empty aircrafts as a result.

Air consolidating

An air consolidator acts as a wholesaler and sells blocks of seats either on self-chartered flights or on behalf of selected airlines (on a commission basis). As an air consolidator, ScandJet coordinates flight capacity among a group of preferred customers. ScandJet allows its partners to "block" a limited number of seats for a price per seat corresponding to chartering a whole airplane. Our concept helps our partners increase their profit and minimize their risk. After only four years in the business, ScandJet has earned such respect and trust that we act as guarantor between our partners and the airlines.

Air Consolidating advantages

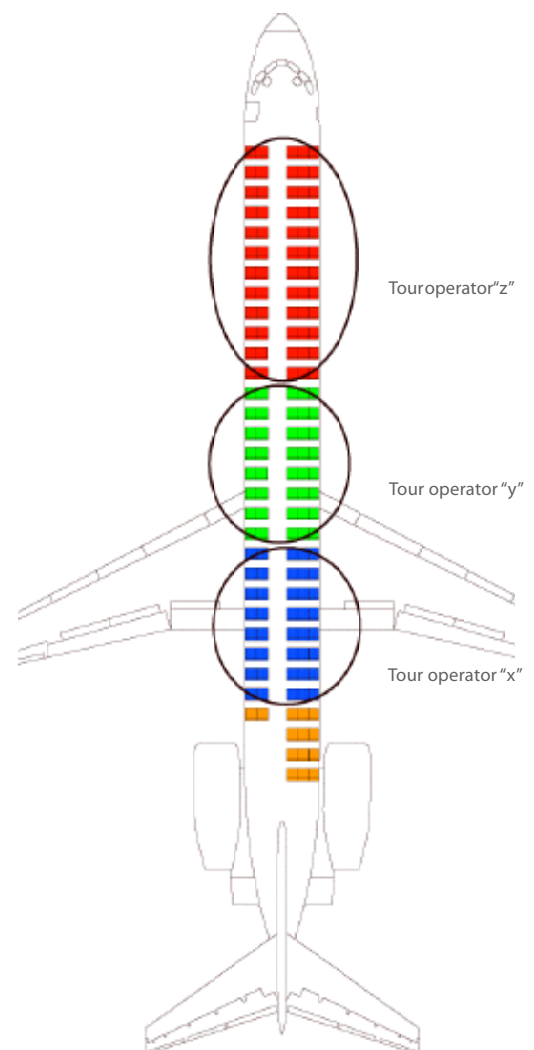

- Possible to block seats not whole planes
- Competition on the same conditions
- Cost efficiency for all parties
- No empty flights
- Less environmental impact

Creativity makes profit for all

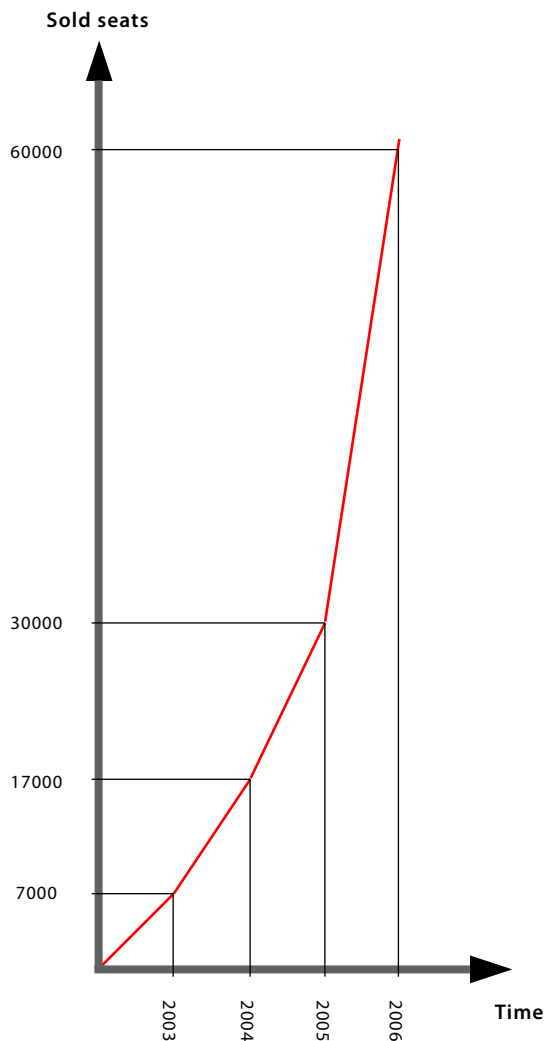

ScandJet has gathered the most innovative and analytical minds in the business to make the puzzle of airlines, flights and destinations come together to a profitable win-win-solution for all. Anyone can appreciate the skills and handicraft that ScandJet's devoted personal performs on a daily basis. We are proud to lead the development forward.

"The ScandJet team is driven forward by passion to take the flight industry to the next level. Instead of unhealthy competition, consolidating gives every involved party a chance to prosper", says ScandJet CEO, Sasha Djakovic.

As a consolidator ScandJet allows its partners to "block" a limited number of seats for a price per seat corresponding to chartering a whole airplane.

ScandJet sales has close to doubled every year since its start in 2002.

Flying towards a greener future

Scandjets is devoted to improve the environmental impact caused by the air travel industry. Consolidating air travel is for sure a key component in battling air pollution.

Customer need is our guideline

We continuously turn to our customers, asking them what they really need the most. The answer is always; the possibility to block a selected number of seats on a predefined series of flights. Giving them our concept of consolidating, we are allowing a number of tour operators sharing the flight capacity. We came up with a win-win-solution for all parties.

Partners give alternative solutions

ScandJet is proud to announce its partnerships with SAS, Fly Nordic (owned by Finnair) and other high quality airlines. Thanks to an open and trusting attitude, we can offer our customers various ingenious solutions on every customer request. We never fail our mission to continuously improve the concept of consolidation.

No empty legs

Today's frequent number of charter flights, very often lead up to so called empty legs, meaning that the aircraft is not fully used going in both directions. Together with strategic partners, ScandJet firmly believes that consolidating can be applied to fill empty legs, thereby reaching maximum utilisation of each flight.
